NUS-SWA industry water tech workshop

22 January 2019, NUS Engineering Auditorium

The NUS-SWA Industry Water Tech Workshop, jointly organised by Singapore Water Association, NUS Faculty of Engineering (FoE), NUS Membrane Science and Technology Consortium (MSTC) and NUS Environmental Research Institute (NERI) was well attended by 110 participants and attracted optimistic feedback and comments.

Mr Harry Seah, ACE of Public Utilities Board (PUB), delivered the keynote topic on "Singapore as a Water Technology Innovation Hub" while industry leaders joined in a panel discussion on "Water Technology Innovation Needs, Regionally and Globally."

Additionally, EWTCOI and START shared on "Water Technology Translational Research Capabilities."

Digital transformation for water industry SMEs

29 January 2019, PUB WaterHub Auditorium

Co-organised by SWA, Microsoft and SME Digital Tech Hub, the inaugural event was attended by 65 participants from various SMEs and local setups.

Ecolab and Iconics were also invited to share on Smart Water Management Solutions while PUB introduced the Smart Water Programme.

IMAGINE H2O ASIA

A path-to-market for innovators solving Southeast Asia's water challenges

Imagine H2O, the global water innovation accelerator, is launching its first hub outside the United States. In collaboration with Enterprise Singapore and Singapore Water Association, Imagine H2O Asia will feature a Singapore-based accelerator and regional customer validation platform for promising water technology start-ups to deploy their solutions across Southeast Asia.

Opportunities are available for leading utilities and businesses for sponsorship, mentorship and participation in the program's customer and advisory networks. Contact singapore@imagineh2o.org to learn more about how Imagine H2O Asia can advance your organisation's innovation priorities and technology needs.
