About this webinar

Cape Town experienced a 1 in 590-year drought in 2014-2018 that nearly resulted in “Day Zero”, an inability for the municipality to provide water to its 4 million people. The Municipality avoided this crisis through unprecedented demand management measures and is using this crisis to create resilience to future droughts. Cape Town will share its ongoing projects, opportunities and future plans in this webinar. Join us to find out more about the opportunities in Cape Town, South Africa!
