UPCOMING SWA ACTIVITIES

Sg-IL Connects: Sustainable Water Resources for the Future

Co-organised with Foreign Trade Administration,
Embassy of Israel, Singapore
9 Nov 2022, Webex

Sustainable development of water resources involves reducing the usage of water and recycling of wastewater for different purposes such as cleaning, manufacturing, and agricultural irrigation in such a way that water demands of future generations are not hampered. It also means water supply will remain consistent, despite climate change impacts, such as a lack of rainfall and drought, or too much rain and being flood resilient.

The Singapore Water Association and the Israel Trade & Economic Mission in Singapore invites interested parties to join the "Sustainable Water" tech exchange webinar, where one will learn about the two ecosystems, and be exposed to the latest water reduction, recycling and reuse technologies from both Singapore and Israel.
