UPCOMING SWA ACTIVITIES

[Technology-Study Mission]: Nanjing Tech-Study Mission
10 – 12 July 2023, Nanjing, China

We are pleased to share with you on our upcoming overseas technology study mission; Nanjing Tech – Study Mission 2023, from 10th to 12th July 2023, co-organised by SWA and Sembcorp, supported by ESG.

This technology study mission to Nanjing is an opportunity for water professionals to learn about the latest technologies and best practices in water treatment and management. Nanjing is a city in China that has made significant investments in its water infrastructure and is known for its advanced water treatment technologies. By participating in this study mission, professionals can gain valuable insights into these technologies, including membrane filtration, biological treatment, and energy-efficient processes. It is also a great opportunity to visit Nanjing International Water Hub at SNEI for its state-of-the-art facility that showcases innovative technologies and solutions for water conservation and management, which are crucial for addressing global water challenges. Additionally, visiting this hub can provide valuable insights and ideas for professionals, policymakers, and researchers working in the water sector.
